

CENTURY TOWER, NEW YORK

Great location, spectacular views of the Big Apple and a variety of amenities are all combined into this well-appointed condominium tower.

Located in Manhattan's desirable Upper East Side, this amenity-rich building features nicely finished apartments that have been recently renovated. Canada-Israel purchased the building together with Electra Real Estate and carried out a condo-conversion process resulting in a high standard condominium tower. Half of the 128 apartments are one-bedroom apartments, appealing to young professionals and couples. Although, these units may also be combined to accommodate larger families. Most apartments offer spectacular views of the city, the East River and the Triborough Bridge through gigantic windows, and some of the top floor apartments feature an outdoor terrace. The building's main amenities include a modern fitness center, a children's playroom, a private cinema room, an outdoor deck, on-site parking and an exclusive spa, with sauna and steam rooms.
